

Editor's note

As we brace ourselves for a 40 degree heat wave our viewings seem to have dropped a little, which is perfectly normal for this time of year.

May 2017 figures for overseas property sales in Paphos show a staggering 533% increase on May last year. The general state of the market is dramatically improving!

Yet more talks on Cyprus are taking place in Geneva, these following those in January of this year, which failed to produce any sort of conclusion. It is difficult to imagine how an agreement can be achieved with the continued presence of Turkish troops in the occupied territories, let alone a positive referendum following an agreement.
